Below are six critical strategies to follow every time you take a practical test. # 1: Print the test and take it to the paper, because the SAT is a paper test (as opposed to a computer test), it is better to take practice tests on paper. Also, make sure you do your job zero directly on the test. Do not exit Zero separate paper pieces for use as the actual test is not possible to get the zero card (but it will be allowed to take notes directly in your test booklet). # 2: Use rigorous timing on each section even if the pressure of time can be intimidating, it is important to follow the official time limits sat by practical tests. Why? If, for example, you only spend two minutes more on a section, this could increase your score from hundreds of points, since additional time has allowed to answer more questions you could have within the actual time limit.
