Future scope of android app development

What is the future of mobile app development. What is the scope of android developer. Does android development has a future.

What users expect from a mobile application? While the basic ingredient of creating a successful application is a profound knowledge of your reference target, you should not forget the 4 fundamental requirements of any modern user. 1. Seamless user experience in fact is what you need for a mobile app to make users happy. Simplicity and precision, reliability and fast performance, clearly outlined and well-executed fundamental functions for this is what the user is waiting in the first place. 2. Fast and response furious instant and the possibility of sharing media content, near real-time answers to e-mails and tweets are all this and more features required instant gratification hole. Now users require immediate satisfaction of their needs, without having to wait. 3. Personalized two-thirds of smartphones make users prefer mobile applications with customized experience. Users are expecting a fitness app to monitor their progress and realizations and a travel application to offer the ideal solution based on their travel history and preferences. Personalization helps build the experience of excellent users, which essentially makes a successful app. 4. Keep It Safe name, Email, Address, bank account number and details Current position Now it's All stored in Smartphone details. Users exchange extremely sensitive information via mobile applications, therefore, security, is more important than ever. Today users bring a high level of experience and expectations for mobile applications, and as entrepreneurs, we must fully satisfy their needs. Because in substance we need them more than needing us - yes that old chestnut, demand and offer. The top task of an entrepreneur is to invest in listening and co-create with their customers. In Madappgang we put your customers' needs before, we immerse them in our development and this is why the applications we develop receive great answers from users - because ultimately they were involved in exactly what exactly That they need! In the last two years, the number of rapidly increased mobile phone users and count is still in progress. India finds the second of the number of mobile users active in the world.
