1 When you first go to Google.com, you don't see much. It appears to be a very simple search engine. In reality ©, but can be used for much more. Right of the search box, there are three links: Advanced Research, Preferences, and Language Research. Advanced Research Promise Advanced Research, a page appears with many different options. In the box labeled "All these words" is your standard search box as that of the front page. The box "this formulation or exact phrase" does not contain © m words in the middle of a sentence. You will surround the words with quotes. For example, if you write "wikiHow is Awesome" in this exact text or in this sentence box, will the search not include a page with "Is wikiHow useful? Many people asked think that © It's useful and spectacular, but it'll include wikiHow is Awesome. That's why I think so"2 The box "one or more of these words"lets you look for something or other, but you won't find the two search terms together. For example, you could search with the box "Chicken or Sauce"the research would include dates on chicken and others on sauce. © the "unwanted words" box. This box allows you not to include certain words in your search. This box puts one before the word. For example, if you look for "Bass" as in fish, you can write "Bass-Sing" to find pages that have Bass and not over singing. 4 Below the boxes, you can choose how many results either in your search in the pending box "Results per Language" that allows you to choose which language you want the search results to be. This option is not © Very necessary. If you search for an English word, then you'll probably get English. "File type", we will select which type of file you want to be the result of the search. So if you want to find.pdf files, then select Adobe Acrobat PDF. "Search inside a website or home" allows you to search inside a site or of an extension like ".edu" 5If you want more than open Using Rights, Rica range, and more 6 Once finished, press the advanced search to see your search results and google! Add new question asks when I open Google's advanced search in "Pear, it opens in Russian. Why? It can be your Google configuration. Try to change your language definitions for English. Question An IP address can be used to hack a system? An IP address can not be used directly to hack a system, but can be used to identify your target and run hacking tools. For example, to connect to a target system, you will want to use the IP to connect to the system. If you want to use NMAP to scan the target, you will require the IP address. NPCAP is the smells library (and sending) of NMAP project packets for Windows. Although NPCAP has many end users who simply use the free / demo version, we finance the NPCAP project through the sale of the improved OEM edition of NPCAP. This special version includes business characteristics such as the silent installer and commercial support, as well as special license rights that allow customers to redistribute NPCAP with their products. The main differences between NPCAP and Free NPCAP / Demo NPCAP releases are: OEM Silent InstallerÁ e NPCAP includes silent installation (/ s), including customization Using from command line. Redistribution customers use this to quietly install Npcap along with their own software in customers'machines. The free Npcap/demo does not include a silent installer. Distribution rights Companies buy Npcap AND Redistribution Redistribution so that they can include in their products that distribute outside their own organization. OEM maintenance plans include commercial support to ensure that all errors you encounter are corrected promptly and all your technical© questions answered. The free Npcap/demo only has free community support available. OEM maintenance plans also include up©front rights, so you always have access to the latest release. We are constantly releasing updates with performance improvements, bug fixes, and new features that you can learn about our changelog. OEM licensees have a license agreement or certificate that guarantees the availability and terms for their use of Npcap OEM, while the terms and restrictions for the free Npcap license change from time to time. Licensing revenues also continued © development of Npcap and improvements to prevent the product from being abandoned as WinPcap was. OEM branding3939 Aherne Npcap OEM reports as such (if users happen to see it on the Add/Remove Software screen or similar), so users know that they have an officially licensed version of Npcap. This page describes the Npcap OEM license of redistribution for companies wishing to redistribute Npcap OEM outside of their organization (e.g. within their products). Organizations that only want to use npcap OEM internally (within your organization, including your employees, contractors, etc.) without any redistribution outside the org qualify for the internal use license Npcap OEM. The redistribution license already allows unlimited internal use for the development and testing and use of your product. So you just need to buy both the licenses if you want to redistribute Npcap on your product(s©) and also use Npcap internally in a way not related to these products. Npcap OEM releasees are made in conjunction with free/demo releasees of Npcap and the number of the version are the same. From Npcap Npcap It© almost identical to the free/demo npcap, more product details are available on the pages pages of NPCAP and we will not try to reproduce all of this here. To keep things simple, our standard NPCAP license does not involve royalties per seat - just a reasonable license purchase fee and an optional annual maintenance fee, which includes all new NPCAP releasees as well as commercial support. This maintenance rate never increases the time you renew it every year. We © also offer a quarterly term license that includes redistribution and maintenance rights for a fee paid every three months while you are selling new products containing OEM NPCAP. The quarterly term license rate never increases. Prices are in the U.S. Dollars (USD) based on the size of the company buying the license, divided into four paragraphs. This is because larger companies are generally able to get more value from npcap OEM by leveraging it on a larger scale. Larger companies usually cost us more to support ©. Prices are based on the entire size of the company, not just an individual division or development team. Prices are hocked after purchase so they don't increase as companies grow later. Companies that choose the quarterly license must set up automatic payments or pay the automated invoices we send to them. We can deal with the initial vendor integrating for the term license, but not individual orders (by payment), corporate payment portals, etc. Our NPCAP OEM Enterprise Redistribution License is © our largest customers. The perpÁÁtua license to use the Npcap OEM in a product line or category (which can be fairly broad) costs $49,900, in addition© to an optional annual maintenance fee of $11,900. Or you can © payment 5 years of maintenance for $47,600 (a 20% discount), then you © covered by © 2026! The option of term quarterly (which includes maintenance) costs US $6.950 every three months. Our license to redistribute NPCAP OEM Mid-Size Company provides a discount for m o m customers © No bearing. The License to use Npcap OEM at all costs of the company's $39,800 products plus an optional annual maintenance fee of $9,500. Or you can prepare five years of maintenance for $38,000 (a 20% discount) so that you are covered by © 2026. The quarterly license option (which includes maintenance) costs $5,900 every three months. To qualify for this license, a company must comply with all of these criteria: 500 or fewer employees (non©profit) Revenues less than $200 million in the most recent fiscal year If publicly traded, market capitalization must be less than $1 billion Our Npcap OEM Small/Startup Company Redistribution license offers a large discount for our smaller customers. The perpetual license© to use Npcap OEM on all company products costs $25,900 plus an optional annual maintenance fee of $6,700. Or you can prepare five years of maintenance for $26,800 (a 20% discount) so that you are covered by © 2026! The quarterly license option (which includes maintenance) costs $3,900 every three months. To qualify for this license, a company must have 50 or fewer employees and no more than $20 million in revenue in the most recent fiscal year. The subsidies of larger companies only qualify for the small/initial license if the parent company© also qualifies as such. All perpÁÁ© licenses include a six©month trial period during which you can cancel for any reason and receive a full refund of all the money paid. The term license is © only a three© month commitment and also can be terminated with full refund during the first three days of the initial quarter. We also provide a© free version/demo of Npcap that you can test, thoroughly internally before buying. The rights enjoyed by npcap OEM redistribution license customers are enrolled in the sample license certificate. This includes indemnification, warranty, updates, etc. A complete version containing software download credentials is provided for each purchase. While we hope to create an online order form for immediate purchase and also establish relationships with Software resellers, we currently have a more manual purchasing process for this new product. To purchase an Internal Use Nmap OEM license, you or your preferred reseller must send a message to sales@nmap.com with the following information: the name of your company, if not obvious from your email address or email signature. We need the name of the ultimate user company if you are a reseller. What a license you want. This depends on the size of your current company as described here and would be the Npcap OEM Enterprise Redistribution License, Npcap OEM Mid-Sized Company Redistribution License, or the Npcap OEM Small/Startup Company Redistribution License. If this is the Company's Redistribution License, the license covers a named product line or category (which can be quite broad). Please include the name of the product line or category you are interested in transporting with Npcap OEM. This is not © necessary for smaller company licenses, since these companies typically have fewer products. Do you want the perpÁÁtua license or the quarterly license? The term license is© paid every three months until © you stop redistributing NPCAP OEM and notify us of termination of the license. Companies that choose the quarterly license must set up self-payments or pay the automated invoices we e-mail them. We can handle the initial seller on shipment for the term license, but not individual (by payment) purchase orders, company payment portals, etc. If it is a perpetual license©you want five to no s of updates and support (with the 20% discount © payment), one year of maintenance (with possible renewals later), or no maintenance? The term license always includes maintenance as part of the quarterly rate. Would you like an invoice that you can pay directly (using international wire transfer, direct u.s. department, check, etc.) or a quote you can use internally within your company to generate a purchase order for us to bill against? Invoices under the US$10000 also © m can be paid by credit card © said, CREW © said. We © also add credit card payment links© or paypal to larger invoices upon request. As soon as we receive your request, we will send you a formal quote with instructions for payment by transfer ban, direct depotion of the ACH or verification. You can pay directly or start the procurement process from your company to the integrating vendor, order request, etc. As soon as the payment or an order is received, we will activate your license and send the following: Account credentials to you and your team To download current and (if you purchased updates) future NPCAP OEM releases. Contacts to send support requests (assuming you purchased support). Support includes bug reports as well as any technical questions© you may have about NPCAP. Final User License Agreement (EULA) to note your rights to use the OEM NPCAP. Is this form (filled, of course). Current licensees can find the NPCAP OEM installer in this distribution direction. If you don't remember your company's username and password, please contact Sales@nmap.com. Be sure to download the latest version unless you specifically require an older one. Note that updating NPCAP for later versions requires a maintenance subscription (support and updates). If you're not sure if you have an active mainteance subscription, email sales@nmap.com and we'll check for you. NPCAP OEM uses the same SDK as normal NPCAP and is available on NPCAP pages. Current NMAP security scanner licensees who want access to NPCAP for use with Nmap should see this FAQ question. The NPCAP OEM shares its documentation with the public version/demonstration of NPCAP. All documentation (and even the source code©) is available by hyperlink of npcap pages. Licensees with an active maintenance subscription (support and have special access to report bugs or ask such questions © Support techniques so © NPCAP technique. If you © a licensee and does not have the support contact information, please send an email sales@nmap.com and we'll send it You. Is the maintenance (support and updates) is optional? For our normal license (perpetal), the maintenance is optional but highly recommended because it extends the perpetory license to include all the new versions launched during the maintenanc period © o. And NPCAP is in very active development. We made 13 releases in 2020, with dozens of features improvements, bug fixes, and performance improvements. The maintenance also includes commercial support whenever necessary. And the price never increases, as long as they do not let themselves be expected for more than 120 days. For our deadline license, maintenance (including all updates and commercial support) is included along with the rights of redistribution at the quarterly rate (which never increases). The first year of maintenance is included in the perpetual license rate? No. Although we strongly recommend the maintenance for the reasons presented in the last question, some of our customs choose to decline even in the first year of maintenance. Others choose the preferred 5-year-paid options for a 20% discount. Quoting the licensing and maintenance prices separately allows customers to make their own selections. Do you sell through resellers? Yes, we are happy to make the sale through your favorite dealer. We work regularly with softwareOne, Shi, and dozens of other resellers. Just ask your dealer to contact sales@nmap.com on your behalf with the information requested in the purchase process. If we already have (or plan to buy) a commercial redistribution licensing of NMAP Security Scanner OEM, will we also need to buy a NPCAP license for NMAP use? No. Our NMAP OEM product includes custom Windows constructions (both an installer and a binaria zip file) that already include NPCAP OEM. This licensing includes total rights to redistribute the NPCAP OEM or use it for testing / development as long as NPCAP only to be used with Nmap. Your Nmap OEM credentials as well © m can be used to download the latest Npcap OEM version in case you want to use (or test) a newer version than those provided with the Nmap. Nmap! and the details are available in the OEM page of the Nmap. Please note that a Nmap OEM business license does not confer distribution rights to use Npcap OEM with non-Nmap software. For this, you would need the OEM redistribution license described by this page, but at least you would receive an existing customer discount. Please e mail me. sales@nmap.com for details. What are the standard licensing terms and if they don't work for us? Our standard licensing terms are available in a license certificate we send (filled in, filled out, etc.). © Clear: We provide indemnity and allow the virtually unlimited use of OEM Npcap technology in their products. We also © we provide the source in case you want to make any changes or just better understand the operation of the Nmap. The agreement includes a six-month trial period during which you can finish for any reason and receive a full refund of all the money paid. While many customers prefer the approach of our new certificate because © faster and remove s the need to revise and sign a contract, others want a contract signed by both parties. Then we still offer a contract option. Our standard model contract for redistribution license © Your OEM Npcap is available as PDF, or editable MS version, and the quarterly contract model is also available © is available in PDF format, and Word. If you just need a little change, we may be able to modify the version of the license certificate for you. If your legal department wants to make many changes, the contract version © probably better. Please note that the extensive marking of the contract will require a significant time for legal review on our side, and changes that substantially increase our obligations (especially around support rights and compensation) will also increase © m the licence fee. The main markings are only allowed mid-sized or enterprise license sizes. Customers interested in the Small/Startup license will have to be limited to a very small number of much smaller changes (if any), or for the most expensive license. What if the Npcap OEM doesn't work for us? Do you offer a trial license or a way to devate it for a refund? Our redistribution license certificate (Section 5.4) includes a six-month period from the date of delivery of software during which you can stop redistributing Npcap OEM and request a full refund for any reason. Refunds include any maintenance fees already paid, as well as any license fees, and they are provided within thirty days. So you don't lose a penny if you're not happy with Npcap OEM or if the project for which you hoped to use it is not certain. Any licenses you have already granted to end users remain in vain. While most customers choose our redistribution license certificate, the contractual version of our licenses also includes this six© month refund provision (see terms of license). We © also offer the free version/demo of Npcap for download and testing. Although this does not have some features of Npcap OEM convention (such as silent installer), and does not allow redistribution, the actual functionality of the driver is © very unique. Thus, you can perform initial testing of © purchase functionality with this. Are there additional limits or fees based on how many copies of Npcap OEM we redistribute or install? No, no, no, you can distribute and install as many copies of Npcap OEM as you wish as part of products covered by your license without additional fees. If the number of our company increases to a higher level, or if Npcap's prices go up in general, will we have to pay more? No. The optional annual maintenance fee for perpetual licenses and the quarter©ly license fee for term licenses are established based on the size of your company and current prices at the time you purchase the license. They do not increase while you choose to renew. My Wow. © huge, but only five people are on the development team for the product that needs Npcap. Can we qualify for the start-up rate? N o. License levels are based on the entire size of the company (or parent company). That's because big companies have the financial and market power to take much more value from Npcap than a small company can, even when the development team's changes to an individual product are similar. Where is the Npcap OEM SDK? There is no need for a separate Npcap OEM SDK, because all software compiled with the normal Npcap SDK is © 100% compatible with both the free Npcap/OEM Npcap demo and the Npcap OEM. The Npcap SDK is available here. What © npcap's U.S. Export Control Classification (ECCN) Number of Countries? Npcap is © a published software that does not© contain encryption (works at a lower level than encryption) and therefore is© classified as EAR99. Generally does not require any export license from the U, except for the provisions that apply to most goods, such as shipping to embargoed countries like North Korea. Can you provide a "private mark" Npcap with custom driver and DLL names so that it can be used only by our software and can be installed along with any other Npcap OEM or Npcap demo files used by other software? While this idea is appealing, it's not © for Windows device controllers like Npcap for various reasons: having multiple Npcap devices loaded into the Windows phone would degrade performance, since each copy would have to inspect the entire network traffic independently. Windows can have very low limits for features such© as driver filter slots and memory use, which could be allocated if each application that uses Npcap also initiates its own npcap driver application. Especially if the system ©m used other network filter drivers, such as VPNs and personal firewalls. Npcap conductor releases involve a significant amount of work to sign them correctly (which must be done manually with a special USB key present for the EV certificate) and then submit them to Microsoft for their own testing and signing of attested certificates. The good news is © we work hard to make Npcap shareable between applications. An Npcap OEM installation will work with applications designed for either the free Npcap/demo or for npcap OEM, OEM, vice-versa. Also © We have worked hard to maintain compatibility to the front and to three with different vers e s of Npcap. In the same way that your application will share other device drivers of a system (car drivers, ethernet drivers, storage drivers), you should not have trouble sharing OEM Npcap driver. The installer Npcap also © Allow you to specify the version(s) you wish to request, as described here. You can even run the Npcap installer with these options each time it starts. If a Npcap installed already meets the requirements of your version or feature, it will leave immediately. Otherwise, Npcap will quietly set up to meet your requirements. requirements.
