ENTREPRENEURSHIP EDUCATION IN NIGERIAN TERTIARY INSTITUTIONS:
A REMEDY TO GRADUATES UNEMPLOYMENT*Dr. Nwite OnumaDepartment of Educational Foundations Faculty of Education, Ebonyi State University
(EBSU) Abakaliki

ABSTRACT: Study investigated exposure of under-graduates students to entrepreneurial education for post-graduation job creation ability. The population consisted all the final year students of Educational Administration, Ebonyi state University 2013/2014 academic year totaling 200 respondents. The population served as the sample size. The instrument was a structured questionnaire, subjected to face and content validation by experts in Educational Administration. Measurement and Evaluation units, test for reliability yielded a reliability coefficient of 0.79. Pearson Product Moment Correlation (r) statistics and population t-test of analysis were used to analyse the data at 0.05 alpha level. The findings showed a significant relationship in the three hypotheses. The result implies that entrepreneurial education is relevant to students with regard to equipping them with skills for post-graduation job creation ability rather than job seekers. The study recommended collaborative efforts of National University Commission with Department of Educational Administration to identify other entrepreneurship programmes to address graduate unemployment on graduation.

KEYWORD: Unemployment, Entrepreneurship Education, Job-creation, Entrepreneurial skills, Innovation and Competency.

INTRODUCTION

Tertiary education in Nigeria is the education given after Post Basic Education Institutions such as universities and inter-university centres such as Innovation Enterprise Institutions (IEIs) and Colleges of Education (Polytechnics, Monotechnics and other specialized colleges (Federal Republic of Nigeria (FRN, 2013:52). According to the National Policy, University education should make optimum contribution to national development by "making entrepreneurial skills acquisition a requirement of all Nigeria universities" p. 54.

Within the context of rising unemployment rates in a skill constrained economy, rising graduate unemployment is particularly worrisome. Development Policy Research Unit (DPRU, 2006) states that 8 million youths are unemployed and it has been the fastest growing education cohort of unemployment since 1995. In a similar vein, International Labour Organization (ILO, 2011) noted that despite the rapid recovery in the global economy that took place in 2010 following two years of severely adverse labour market conditions, global unemployment remained elevated in 2010. According to ILO (2011) the number of unemployed stood at 205 million (6.2%) in 2010. In Nigeria, the scenario is the same and even appears worse. The National Population Census (NPC, 1998) of the Federal Republic of Nigeria showcased unemployment rates in Nigeria, state by state in 1991 and 1993.

Entrepreneurship is widely accepted as a momentous driver of new ventures and propels and sustains economic growth. It was introduced into the educational system in Nigeria as part of the process of dealing with graduate unemployment. This study reviews the main developments in entrepreneurship education in general and appraises the pedagogical methods employed in colleges of education in Nigeria with the aim of determining its capacity to nurture entrepreneurial intentions among the students. Primary data was obtained using the Likert-type questionnaires which was administered on 200 level students of the FCT College of Education, Zuba, Abuja, Nigeria. Frequency, percentages and chi-square test were used to analyse the data. The research findings indicate that the prevalent instructional approach is the conventional classroom teaching as against the more efficient non-conventional methods. Notwithstanding, the students are motivated by their exposure to entrepreneurship training to create new ventures after graduation. The impact is not gender-related.
