Choose the correct words from above to complete this conversation. You may need to adjust the form.

A: When my dad had a stroke (Schlaganfall) he was _____ to speak.
B: Go lord, really? But he can speak again, can't he?
A: Yes, we immediately _____ speech-therapy from him. We had a lady to work with him, but she didn't do well, she was just really _____, she spent most of her time packing and unpacking her things.
B: Was she the one who also _____? I remember you said one of the ladies refused to take off her shoes and talked on her phone during sessions.
A: Yes, that was her! She was also very _____, she called everyone by their first name and never said "thank you" or "please". You know, we talked to her a lot

In English many words are formed with suffixes (rows of letters that are added to the end of a word). Suffixes change the kind of word, so knowing them is very useful; you learn one new word and with the help of suffixes you can use it in many contexts. Here are the most common examples:

- nouns for things: -ment -ity -ness -tion -ence/-ance
- nouns for people: -er -or -ist -ee
- verbs: (usually it's simply the shortest word form) -ify -ise -en -en-
- adjectives: -ous -able/-ible -al -ed/-ing -ful/-less -ic -ive
- adverbs: -ly (surprise, surprise!!! ☺)

Find examples for as many of these suffixes as possible and write them on a piece of paper.

Complete as much of this table as is possible for you. (These words do not count towards the task above.)

Here are the most common affixes which are used to express the negative meaning of a word. You usually see them with adjectives, but they also work for other kinds of words.
